Through UIB's reinsurance placement market hubs in London, the Dubai International Financial Centre (DIFC), Singapore and Miami we are able to provide access to markets across all time zones.

The founding directors, many of whom are still active in UIB, have worked together since the 1970s providing a depth of knowledge and continuity seldom seen in the insurance business today.

The ethos of UIB, from the very beginning, has been client focused. Listening carefully to clients' concerns and requirements, striving to meet those needs, and delivering the appropriate risk solutions and professional service.

UIB INSTITUTE

UIB has a track record of delivering high quality insurance and risk management seminars, in London, Dubai and Singapore to many of the world's energy companies as well as insurance industry practitioners.

With Morocco now fast becoming a major centre for the development of renewable energy production, it is only appropriate that we deliver this year's conference in Marrakesh, the oasis in the heart of the desert.

The global energy industry has some of the world's greatest concentration of risks and has witnessed several high-profile losses and violent attacks resulting in significant financial loss and operational disruption.

The UIB Institute was established to deliver knowledge and training on the latest developments and best practices in (re)insurance and risk management, specifically tailored to the energy industries in which our current clients and prospective partners operate.

The UIB Institute's core values are Excellence, Professionalism and Knowledge.

With a wealth of relevant experience from (re)insurance practitioners to be shared with the UIB Institute members, the UIB Institute will give insight into both the commercial and technical aspects of (re)insurance and risk management that are required to meet the challenges posed by this sector.

As part of UIB's on-going training commitment, our training does not end when the certificates are awarded. Following the conference, participants will receive the presentations and resources that were shared during the intensive three-day period. This conference, and the resources, are also eligible for Continuous Professional Development Points.

ENERGY & CONSTRUCTION TRAINING CONFERENCE

This conference provides training in (re)insurance and risk management for the energy sector including oil and gas, mining, traditional power and renewable energy industries. In addition, the conference will also focus on energy related construction (re)insurance and other relevant contingency covers.

The three-day conference reviews the risk exposures in the energy sector and risk transfer process via the global insurance markets. Significant attention is given to the claims handling and collection process and to key areas such as risk engineering and valuations that can potentially have a major impact on claim recoveries.

The theme for this year's seminar is "Evolution of Power and Energy: Insurance Solutions for a Changing Landscape" and therefore the presentations will have a focus on the energy transition in addition to the more traditional power and oil and gas related insurances.

The conference is limited to a maximum of 100 participants to ensure high levels of interaction and knowledge transfer.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

This residential conference will be held in Marrakesh at the Mövenpick Hotel Mansour Eddahbi, approximately 7 km and a 15-minute taxi ride from Marrakesh Menara International Airport, Morocco.

The conference promises to be a valuable insight into the International marketplace. It will present a valuable opportunity to network with industry leaders from the London and regional markets and insurance professionals.
